Jaguar Kicks Off Educational Awareness Contest in Honor of African Traditional Medicine Day

Jaguar, Napo Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Jaguar's wholly owned subsidiary), and the Italian subsidiary of Napo Pharmaceuticals, Napo EU S.p.A., are deeply committed to recognizing and honoring the knowledge and expertise of Indigenous healers who first discovered the medicinal properties of specific plants. African Traditional Medicine Day, celebrated each year on August 31st, was established by the World Health Organization on August 31, 2000 to acknowledge the contribution African traditional medicine has made to human health for centuries. Jaguar is delighted to focus on African traditional medicine for this fourth educational awareness contest in the Company's series. The winner will receive a signed and framed print (4/25) of the original painting below of a jaguar by Anthony J. Conte. The painting was inspired by a photograph of a jaguar taken by Christopher Scharf in the Cockscomb Basin Wildlife Sanctuary & Jaguar Preserve in Belize.

The winner will be chosen at random from the pool of contest participants who correctly answer all or most questions in the multiple-choice entry form. Entries must be received by 9:00 a.m. US Eastern Time on August 31, 2021. No fee is required to enter the contest. Additional contest terms and conditions apply. His oil paintings have been auctioned at fundraising events for conservation groups such as the Atlantic Salmon Federation and Wild Sheep Foundation. "Eye, Jaguar" is his first painting of a rainforest-dwelling mammal, created for and gifted to Jaguar Health, Inc.
